Learning Ambassador review of the week

This week, in 5R, we have been sketching clouds and for his story we recreated an artifact that historians had found over 1000 years old. We have also been writing about a man in a boat with gorgeous water. We only got a picture to write the story so if we did not have good imagination then it would be a bit harder for you.

For maths we have been adding huge numbers and subtracting. We have loved this week so far and have had a huge laugh. I'm sure we will make this work to be the best year ever!!!
