Dear parents and carers,

We are now well into what has so far proved a very successful return to school for the children. All classes are working hard and the children and staff have been magnificent.

Early Years

Since I last wrote to you Tawny Owls and Snowy Owls are now in full-time and have collectively made a brilliant start. They look totally settled in their lovely EYFS base and seem to be really enjoying their first few weeks at school. For them, the day must seem very long, so I bet there are a lot of very tired children come 3pm!

Road Crossing Patrol

You will be aware that the Road Crossing Patrol has ceased with the retirement of Derek. Derek had helped children to cross the road for the last seven years. There is no immediate replacement for Derek, and Norfolk Fire and Rescue Service are reviewing the role to see if it is necessary. Rest assured that we have informed NFRS that we believe the role to be very much necessary, and are hopeful that the role will be continued, and that a new Crossing Patrol Person will soon be in place. If you have a view on this that you would like us to pass on to NFRS, then please do email us at: office@scarning.norfolk.sch.uk

Windows, doors and ventilation

In order to combat Covid-19 we are aiming to have windows and doors open as much as possible to provide increased ventilation. With this in mind we think that wearing vests and 'skins' will prove a useful way of ensuring your child is as warm as possible.

Home learning

We hope that those of you that have had to make use of our home learning offer have found this easy to understand and useful for your child. We will in the next week or two be surveying parents to find out how the experience has been for them.

We will also be posting a 'Remote Learning Policy' to our website which will formalise previous information we have shared with you. <http://www.scarningprimary.co.uk/home-learning>

Finally, a big thank you to all parents and carers for your on-going support. It has been a great team effort so far!

Have a lovely weekend,

Nick King,
Headteacher
